"81" Rules

Think neither of yesterday, nor of tomorrow. For today is a brand new beginning.

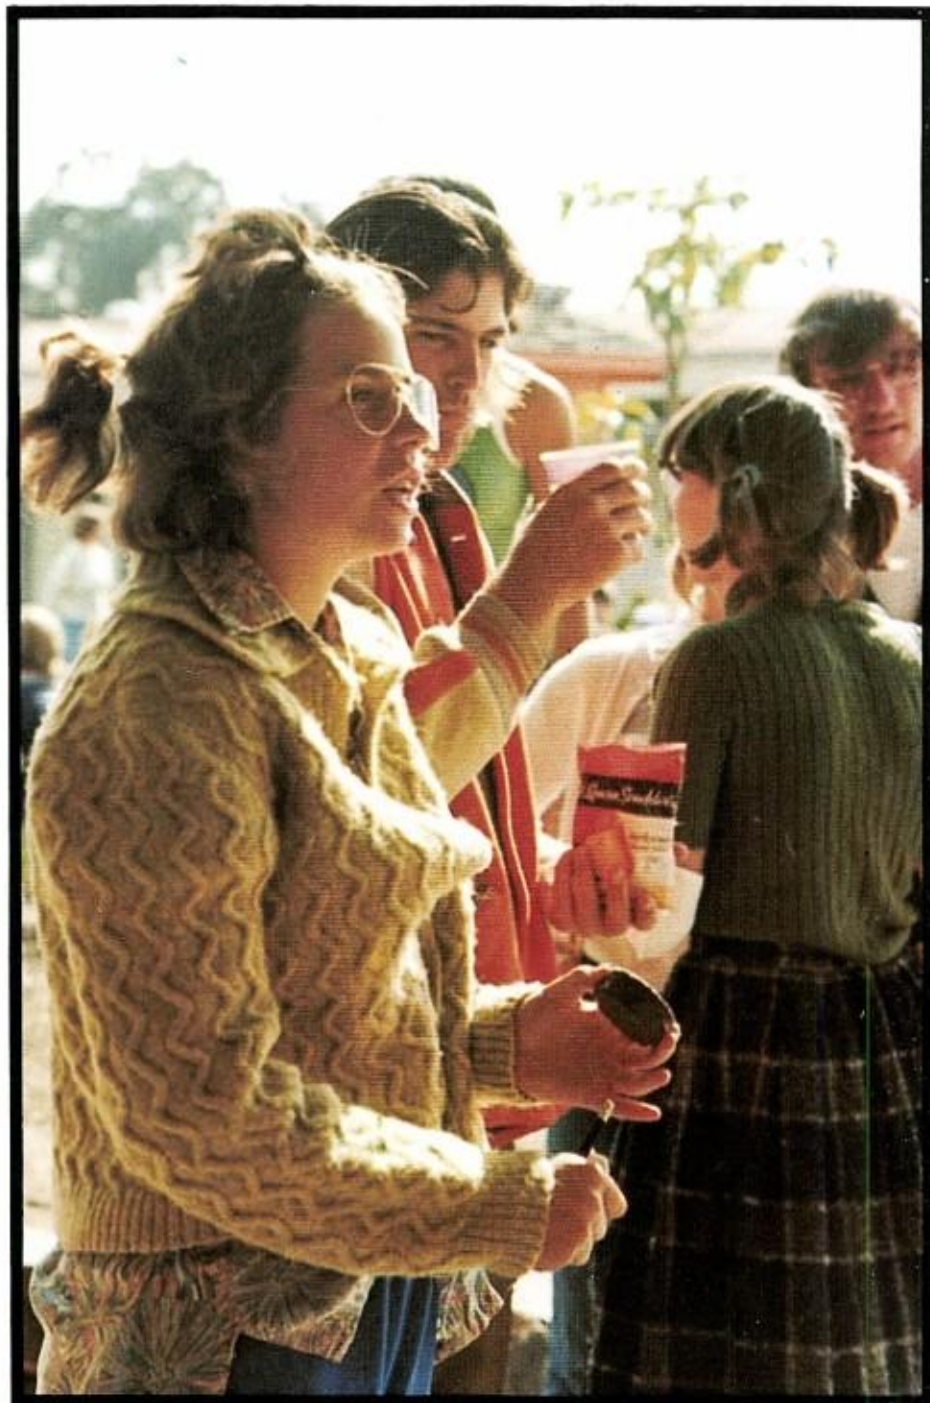

Experiencing "now." Living our lives to the fullest with each passing moment. Taking today and making what you will of it. You may always remember yesterday, and dream of tomorrow but is what is happening now. For when today passes it will only be a yesterday to be looked upon. Experience life and all its pain and happiness. Experience the moments of laughter and tears. For all these are what make up life.

Experience all that you will and carry the memories with you. Live today ...strive to be happy. Today is a look at a movie never to be forgotten, an exhausting football game, sharing a laugh with a group of friends, dressing up for 50's day, and everlasting spirit ...

...a mischievous face or one of plain

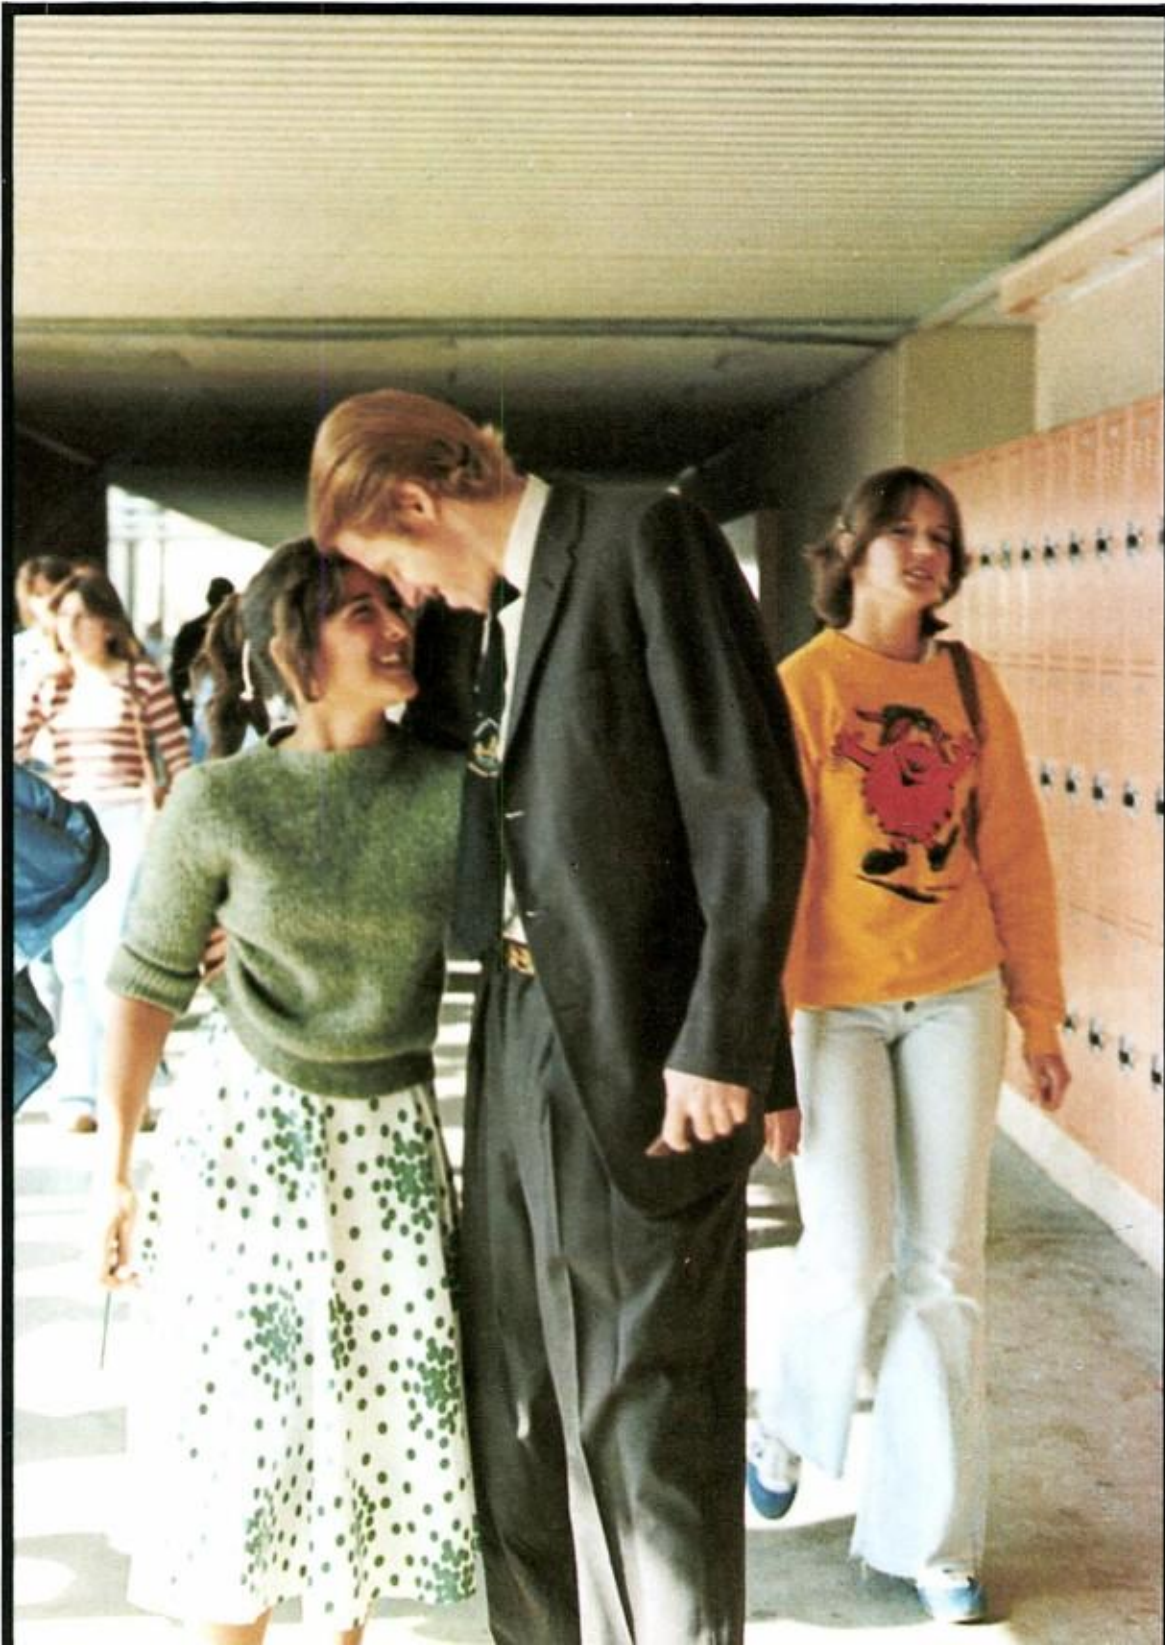

Curiosity

Your nutritional meal of donuts and potato chips, a good book, soil stained pants and cold rear ends. A look of love shared by two.

New Superintendent, Dr. Anthony Avina, discusses plans for a big year.

It is education which gives man a clear conscious view of his own opinions and judgments, a truth in developing them, an elegance in expressing them, and a force in urging them.

KNOWLEDGE

Two new faces, Tim Hallett and Sabra Dupree.

The 1977-78 Administration saw new faces: as Vice Principal, Sabra Dupree brought organization and curricular talents to AHS; also she arranged for such things as jazz concerts and poetry reading, etc. Tim Hallett took over as Dean of Students, with the job of bringing out of chaos. He was in charge of a sometimes feisty student council. He handled discipline problems and could be seen roving around the campus daily. This fresh approach was carried by the new Superintendent, Dr. Anthony Avina, who visited the campus often, talking to students about what needed changing.

Counselors: Carol Jung, Mary Shreve, and Carl Robbins in a routine meeting.

Lila Cummings, secretary, is busy solving a counseling problem.

Work Experience Coordinator, Gail Ritchie talks with a student.

Most students have heard of the counselors and know that they're there to help students if they have a schedule problem.

But what else do the counselors do? They keep an accurate record of the credits students have and the ones they need to graduate. They also students with family problems and attendance problems. And since February of 1977, they are in charge of the Career Center.

Help

The Career Center is there to help students decide on a career and a college or university that is right for their needs.

Alice Rew, Librarian, is busy filing a library card.

Snack bar staff include: Sue Riding, Mary Best, and Mary Clyburn.

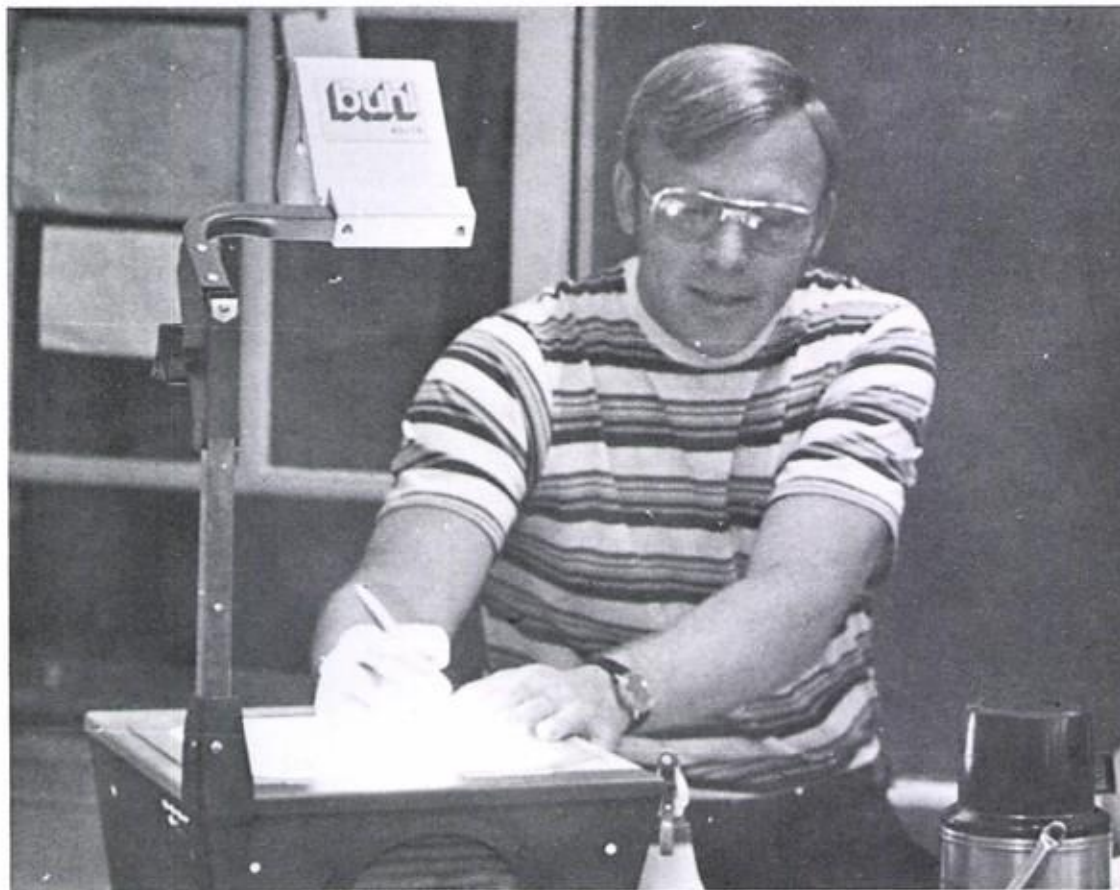

Secretarial staff include: Carolyn Lazzarini, Karen Heinemann, Jane Chastain, Susan Victorine, Lila Cummings, Betty Brazzi, and Joan Keil.

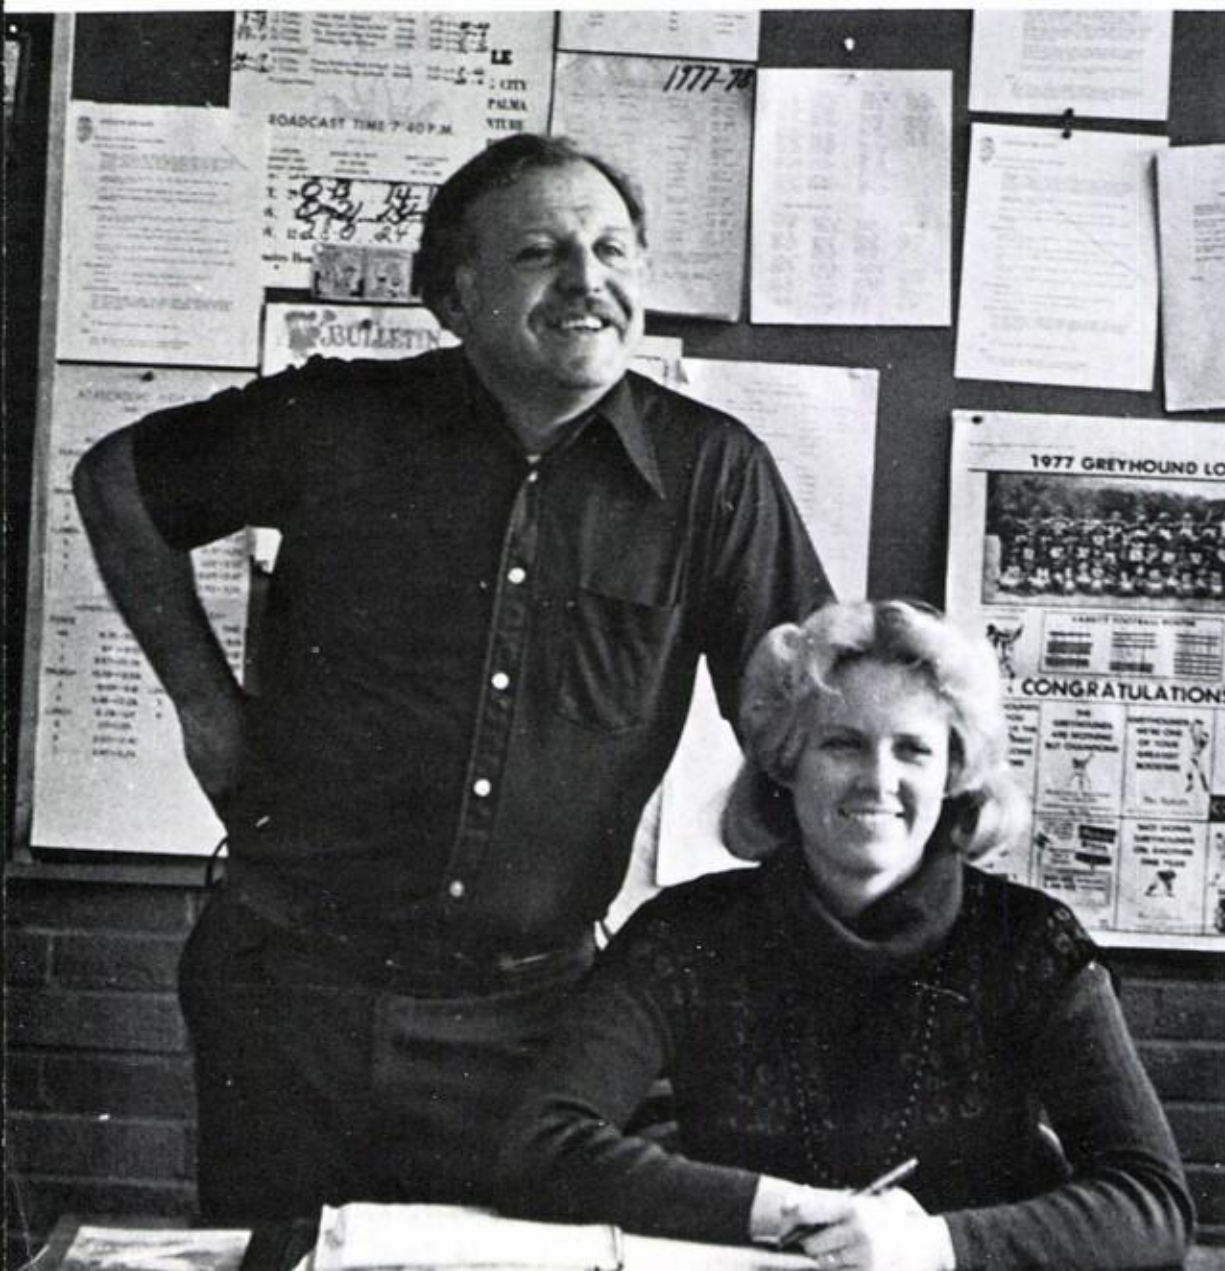

"Nobody told me you were taking pictures today," says Pat McDonald, business instructor.

"... and the net total goes in this column," instructs Bill Spomer, business teacher.

Department head Guido Lombardi and business teacher Cathy Holdridge admire the new electric typewriters.

With new electric typewriters and a new class in printing (Graphic Arts), business is booming at Atascadero High School. Business Department head, Guido Lombardi, remarked, "I feel we have the best business department in the county." There are many for students with business certificates from Atascadero High School. These certificates are handed out by the business department on completion of certain business classes. The certificates are for: General Office Clerk, Clerk Typists, Stenographer, Accountant Clerk, and Retail Sales Clerk. These certificates do work, for many of the AHS graduates have top jobs in the county.

Air Force Junior Reserve Officers Training Corp develops leadership and self-discipline through the theory of military life and drill. Cadets learn about aerospace exploration, technology, navigation, and drill. A three year graduating cadet has the to enlist in the Air Force at one pay grade higher and a four year graduating cadet can enlist at two pay grades higher in any other service. Full college scholarships are also available to Jr. ROTC graduating cadets.

The Educable Mentally Retarded (EMR) class, taught by Mr. Byrne, is more of a study center than a class. In this class the students learn English, math, social studies, and state requirements. The special education classes let students know they have Potential.

The Learner Disability Group (LDG) program, instructed by Mr. Clickard, is set up for students with a normal IQ who are having trouble achieving.* This year the LDG program is using something new for reading improvement called Formula Phonics.

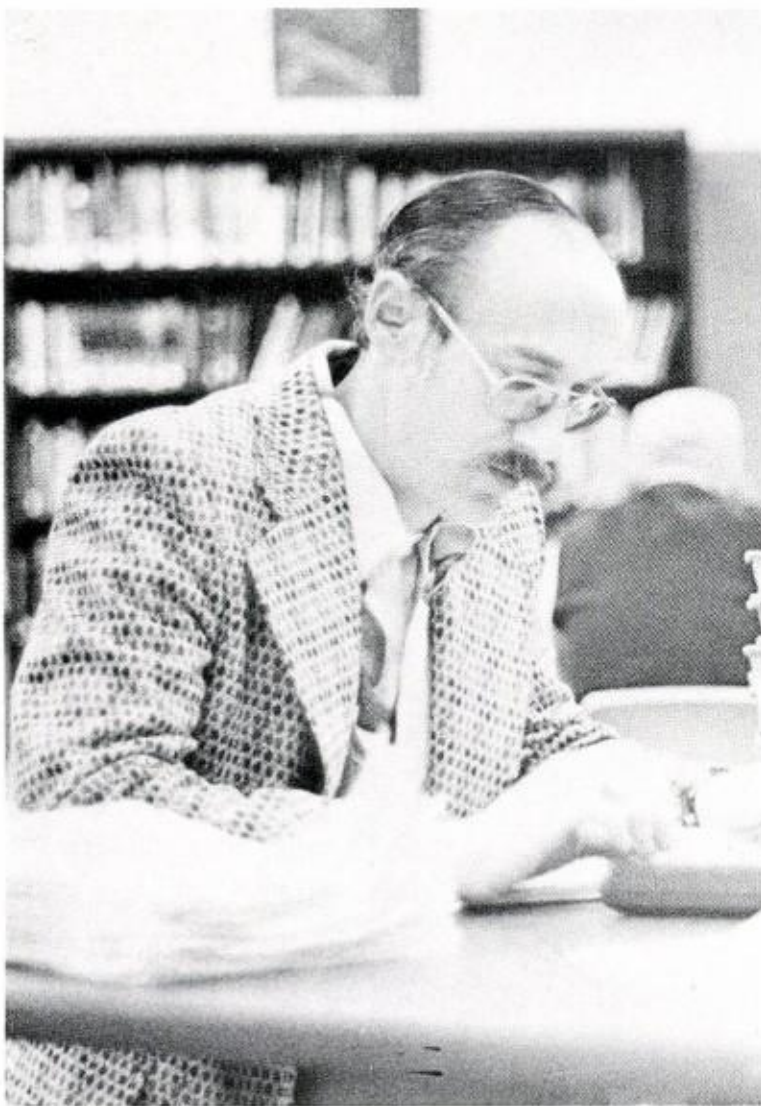

The Creative Arts fields attracted the attention of many people, not only in the arts, crafts, and ceramic areas, but in the music, photographic, and journalism fields. The photography classes learned how to take not only good, but pictures. In the music department, the chorus and band put on concerts such as the Christmas concert, and the AHS band was also included in many parades. The drama classes worked on several different plays including performing "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds" and a musical.

Ken Mallet the drama instructor and Mike Doty the music instructor.

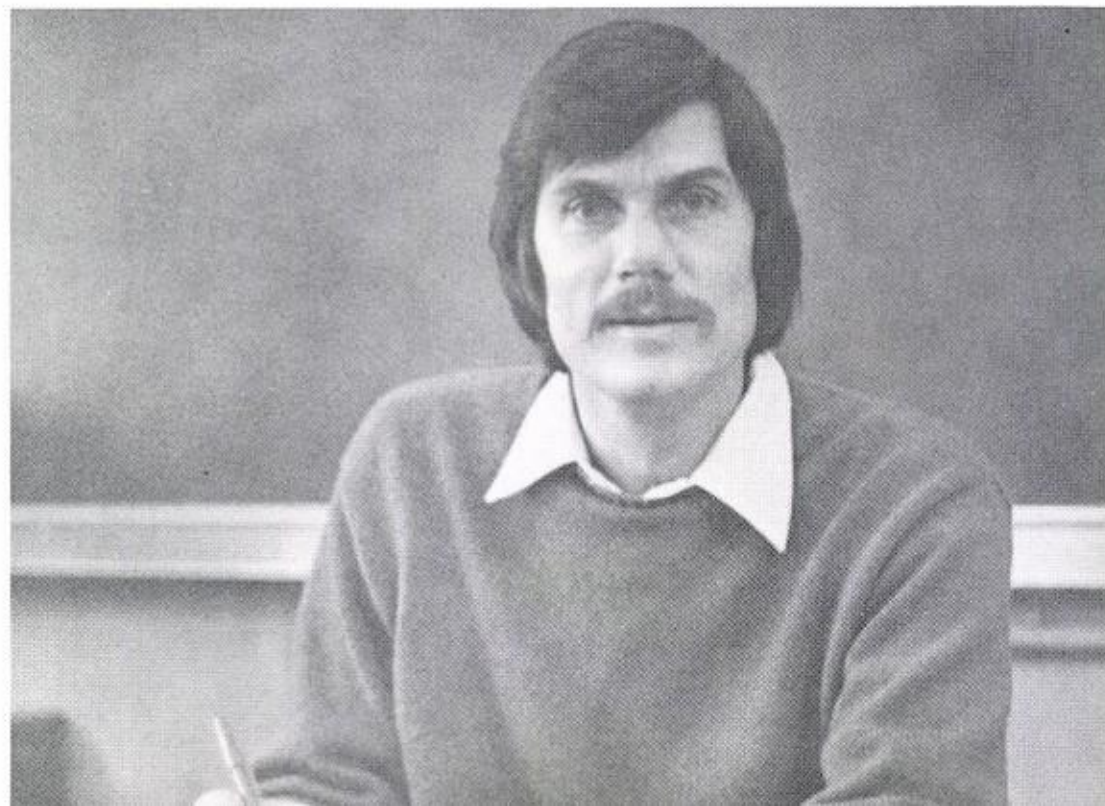

Jim Comes is the new photography teacher.

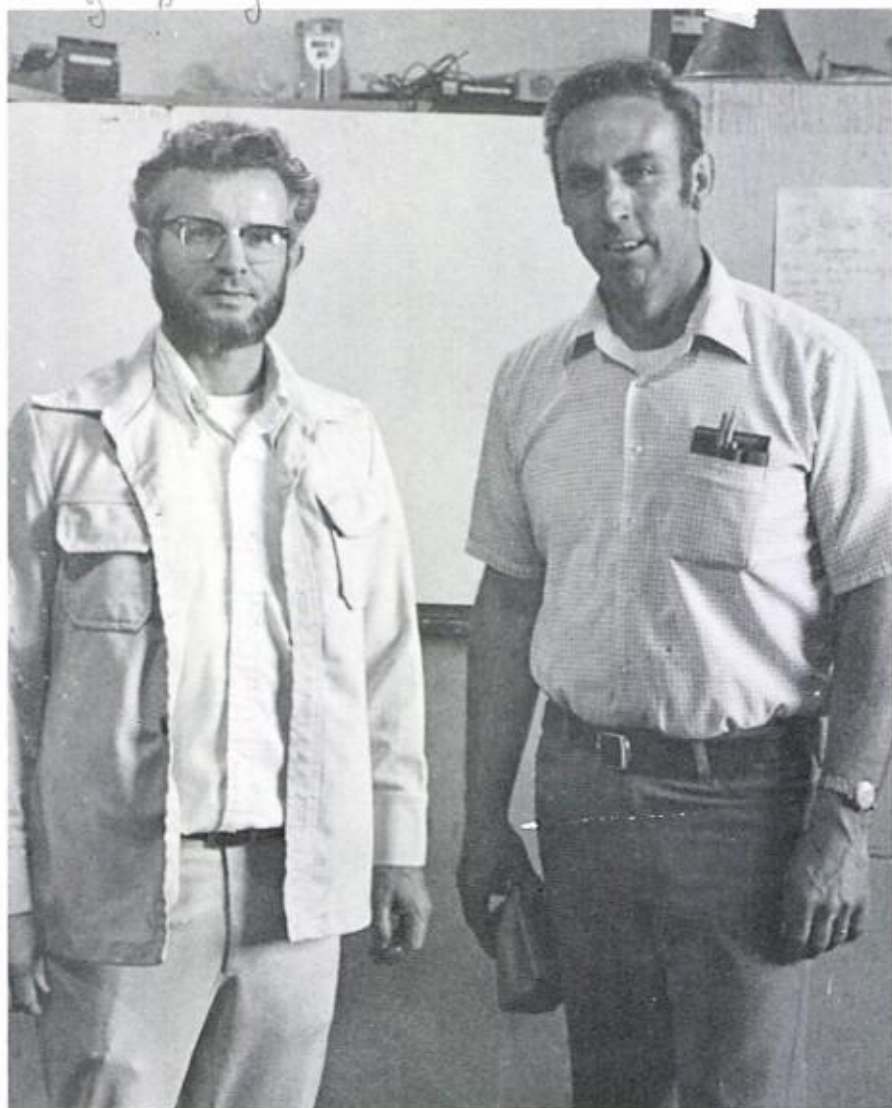

Chester Brownlee is the arts, crafts, and ceramics teacher.

Bill Young the electronics instructor and Lowell Lampman the construction tech. instructor.

Forrest Miller is the metal shop instructor.

John Vial is the instructor for wood shop.

Russ Mattice, auto shop teacher, with a pack of goodies.

There were many courses in the Industrial Arts program. In the auto shop classes, students worked on cars, learning about engines, transmissions, and body work. The metal shop classes built with different types of metal, making objects ranging from sculptures to the most practical. The wood shop classes were in building with several kinds of wood, making racks, tables, and other types of furniture. Students in electronics classes worked with wiring and repairing electrical equipment. In the construction tech. class students actually built a duplex house, doing all the wiring, insulating, and painting.

The athletic department had a hectic beginning with the new enrollment and the remodeling of the girls locker room. The staff is really getting their act

Together.

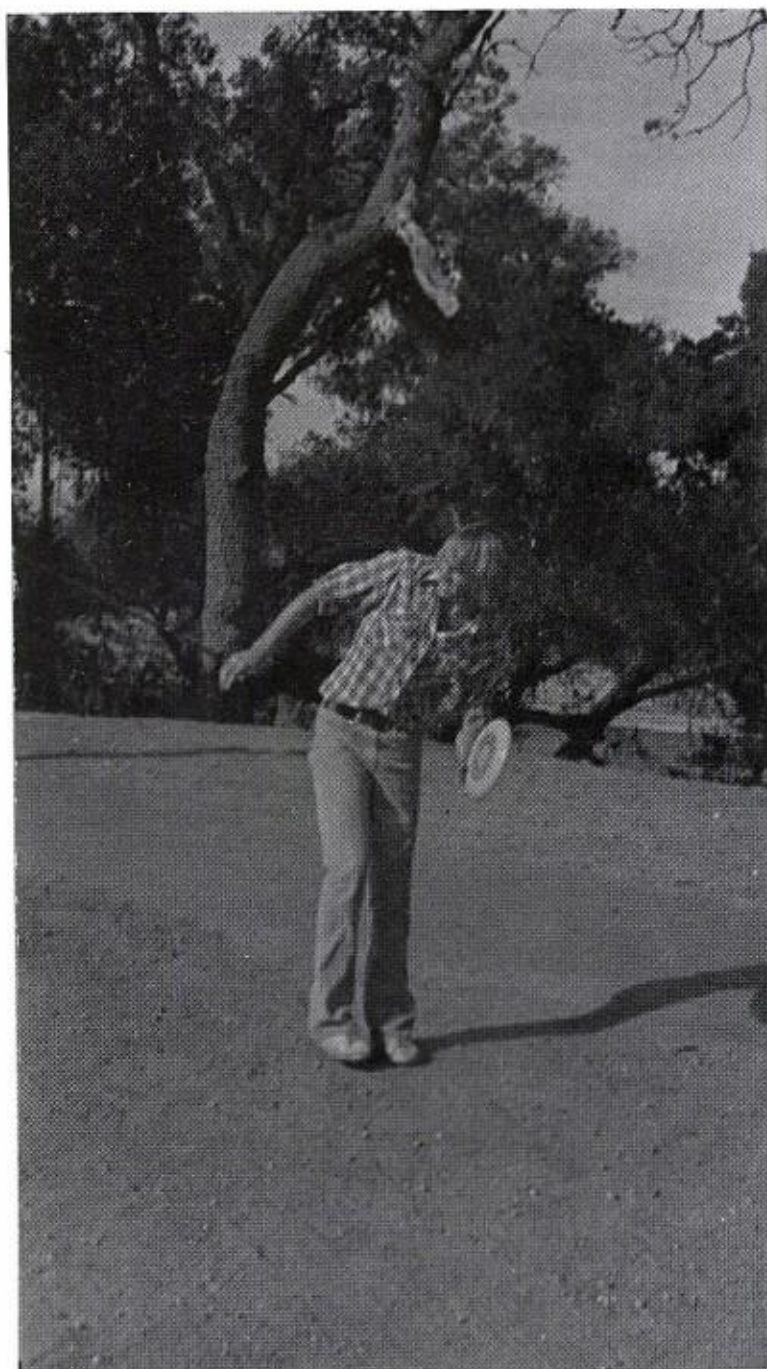

They have added biking, orienteering, fly casting, frisbee, and an expanded intramural program with ping-pong, badminton and skate boarding.

Girls' P.E. teachers are Colleen Collelmo and Carol Hinkle.

Boys' P.E. teachers are Don Tucker, Bill Wesnousky, and Art Wilmore.

Ag. teachers are: Jerry Dean, Ken Churches, Bob Pinney, and Al DeRose.

The Ag Department is where vocational agriculture students learn by doing. Mr. DeRose, Mr. Dean, and Mr. Pinney work hard during their classes, as well as devoting extra time helping students after school, on weekends, and at many odd hours of the night.

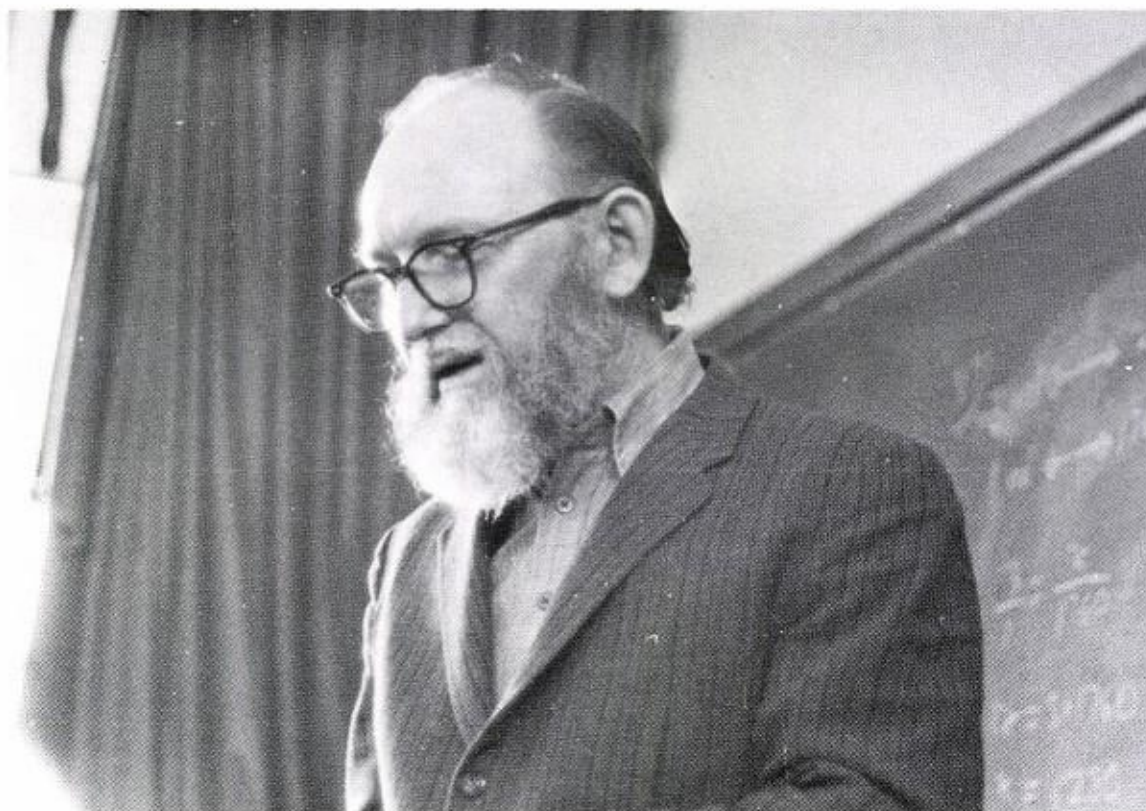

Involvement

is the key to success in agriculture studies. Through a dedicated staff, the following program is offered: Welding, Ag mechanics, Ornamental Horticulture, Horse Production, Introduction to Ag, Animal Husbandry, Ag Business Management and Ag Skills.

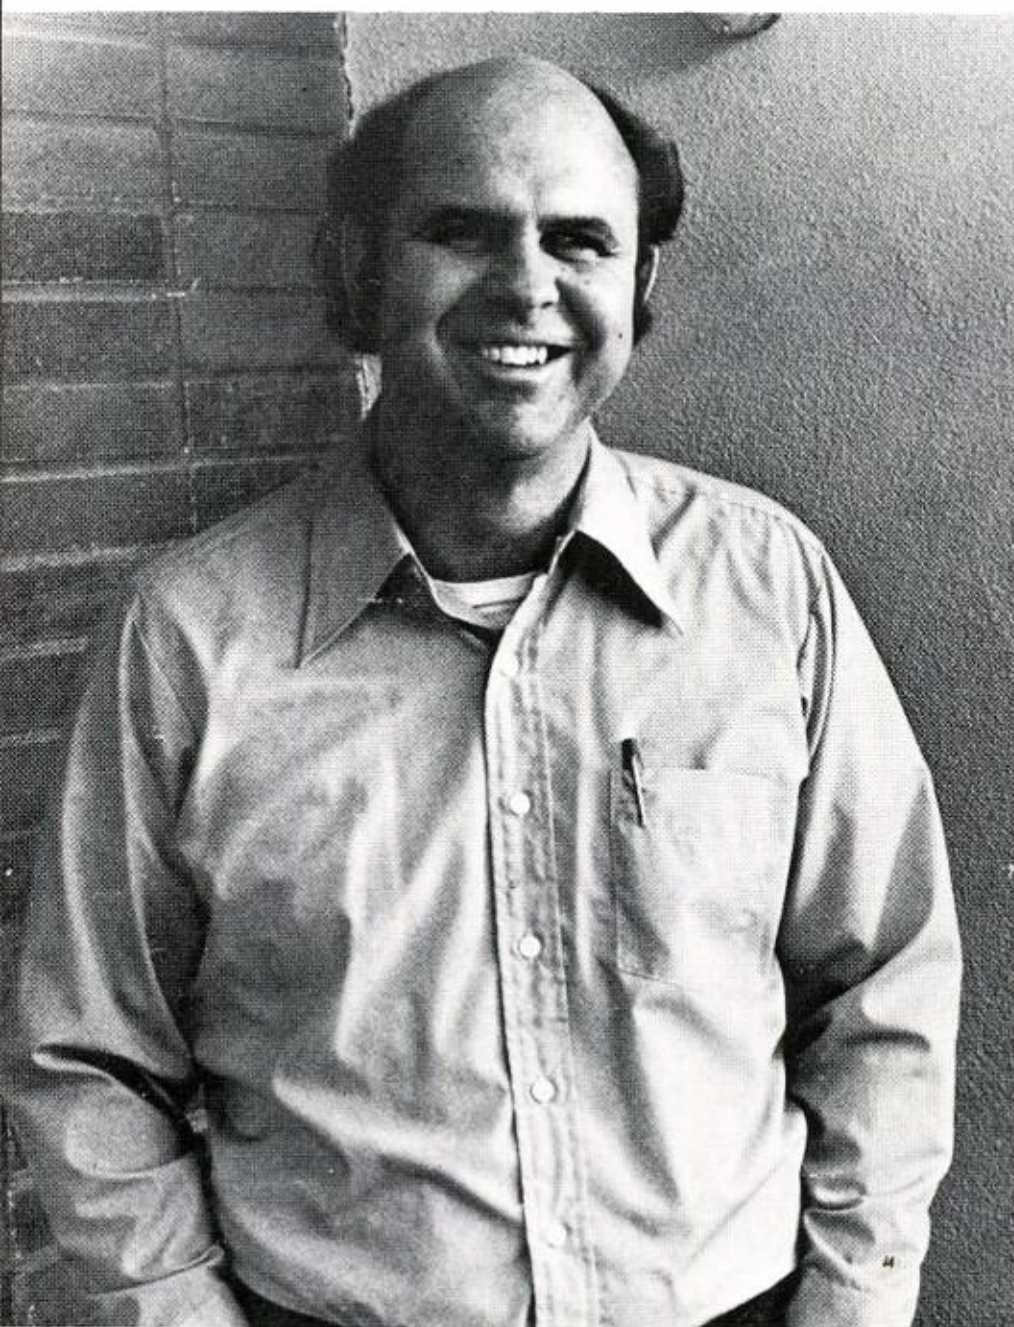

The Science field covered a very broad spectrum of interests such as physical science, environmental science, earth science, science I, biology, AP biology, chemistry, and physics. In the classes, students the nature of the physical universe, doing many experiments, projects, and practical assignments. There was a one year minimum requirement for graduation, but several students went back for more.

Robert Wilson teaches advanced Math courses and Physics.

Eugene Elsdon, Science department head.

Alan Ashby, Environmental and Earth Science.

The many courses offered at AHS encouraged students to stay in the Mathematics program throughout their four high school years. In to the one year required as a minimum for graduation. Courses span from general math, and pre-algebra, to geometry and analytic geometry. The later is the highest level now available, but students are hoping that the school will expand the curriculum to include calculus.

Ed had the best person for the job as far as I'm concerned. I did it all year and I'm still here. I had a lot of fun and I learned a lot. I hope you had a good summer.

Taking foreign language expanded your horizons because it allowed you to occupy a viewpoint different from your own. It gave you language skills which permitted conversation with people from lands. These skills also came in handy if you wished to travel to exotic places. In addition, students found their interpersonal relations were strengthened when they could talk with each other in a foreign language.

The Home Economics department came a long way in the past few years. They offered a wide variety of classes. "Home Arts and Crafts" included quilting, macrame, and patch work. "Child Development" explored working with children. "Old Fashion Foods" consisted of the making of bread, jerkey, jelly, and canning of all types. "On Your Own" helped one in balancing a check book, getting loans, buying a car, budgeting, and for the time when one is on his own. "Foods III" taught how to cook foreign foods. "Basic Foods" taught the fundamentals of cooking. "R.O.P." was restaurant training. It mainly allowed one to gain skills for beginning jobs in foods service. All classes were offered to both sexes, and were extremely beneficial to all.

Barbara Coffland explains work to students.

The English Department introduced two new requirements in a back-to-basics move: At the same time, many electives were eliminated. But some old favorites remained: Outdoor Literature, Science Fiction, Modern Literature, Mythology, and a few others. Many new were generated by teachers and students both taking a careful look at how English and how literature fit into their lives. English 3A, 4A, and the literature A courses were oriented toward college bound students. The English department at AHS is changing for Today.

Pam Meyer and Carla Clayton are two returning English teachers.

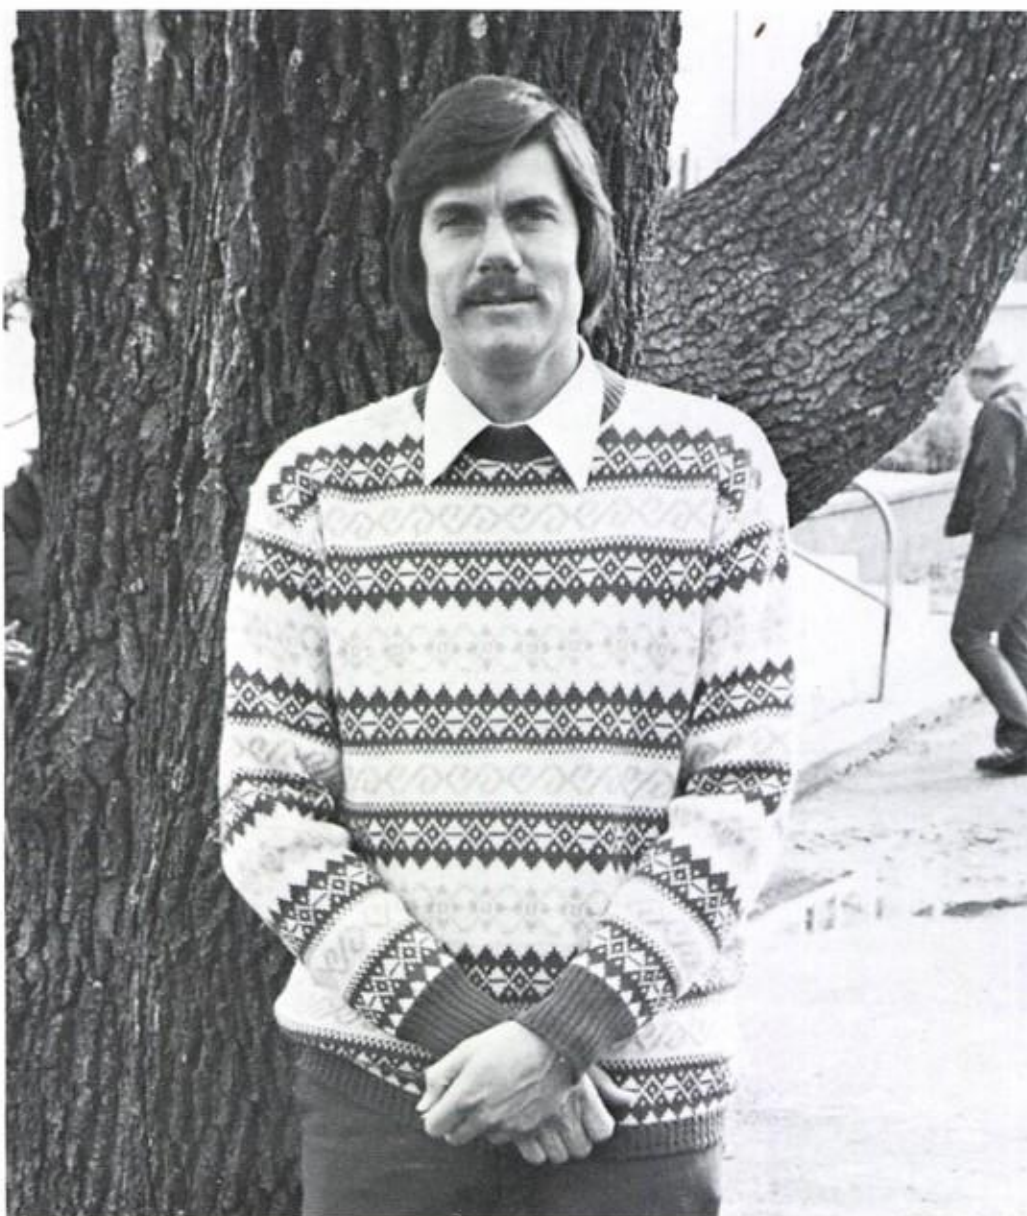

Familiar faces in the English department are, Ken Mallett and Bill Young.

I wonder if she really noticed my dandruff.

Three English teachers are, Edmund Gelinas, Mary Isaacsen-Bright, Levi Monica.

Student Council, under the leadership of a new advisor, Mr. Tim Hallet under went some new changes. With a scheduled weekly meeting, the group met and debated many of the arising problems and anticipated many of their new

Goals

With the previous last years debt of 16,000 dollars to be paid, the group sometimes wondered if they would be able to accomplish anything. But they still went ahead with their plans of landscaping the school grounds. The student Council Officers were as follows: Robert Landgren, president; Ken McDougall, vice president; Chris Beaver, secretary; Joyce Russell, treasurer; Lynn Russell, commissioner of activities; Tye Hamilton, commissioner of atheletics; Bruce Meeks, commissioner of buildings and grounds; and Kim Cochrane, board representative.

Did someone mention snow?

The advisor for ski club is Mr. Allan Ashby.

This year everybody in the Ski Club was thinking snow, and it did. There was so much snow the ski club was able to take a three day trip to Lake Tahoe. Everybody had a fun time. The ski club advisor, Mr. Ashby, said that it is very possible for the club to go on two excursions next year if the snow is as plentiful as it was this year.

Air Force Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps, better known to AHS as the ROTC, was a course designed to introduce students to the fundamentals of military life. Through this course students learned Lisa Perdick, Domestic Exchange Student from Pennsylvania.

I had always thought that California is like a flat dry desert. When I came here I was really impressed at all the mountains and hills around here.

During the year I have found out many new things, like there is a thing like rain out here; and the earthquakes, I was warned, don't happen too often.

The school here proved to be much easier than the one I go in Finland. What I have really liked is the big athletic program, especially American football is very interesting to watch.

I had never expected to find any cowboys in the modern, urban California.

During the year I came to know lots of new people, students and teachers. The first question they asked me was, "How do you like California so far?" I would like to tell all of you that I have really enjoyed the time here, and I would like to come back some year and see all you once again. Thanks to all of you who made my stay in Atascadero a memorable one.

They were David Hutts from Missouri; Lisa Perdick from Pennsylvania; the foreign student was Simo-Pekka Reponen from across the deep sea in Finland. We also had two of our own students leave for one semester. Greg Tribett, Junior in Wisconsin and in Ohio, Senior, Carole Lant.

Along with the exchange of students are the fun activities of Donkey Basketball, conferences, weekend exchanges with schools throughout California and money raising projects.

Yearbook Editors Laurie Tallchief, Adrienne Bell, and Jeanne Mulder share a laugh over another yearbook error.

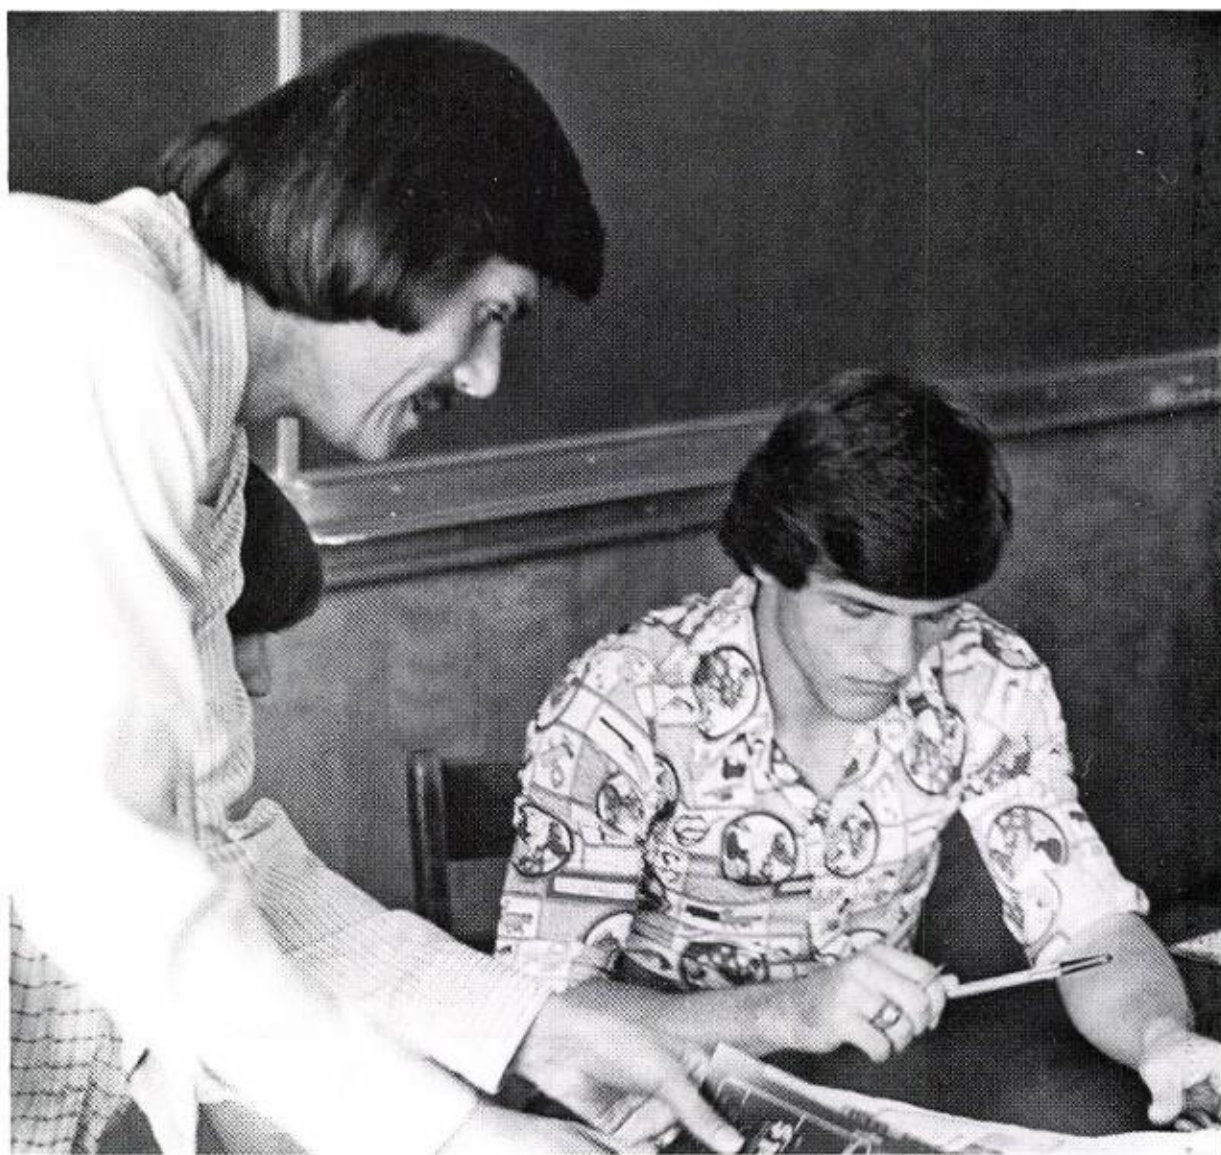

Mr. Chapman, new yearbook advisor, displays one of his better moods.

The Hilltop News put out eleven papers this year, keeping the student body informed of school events and topic of controversy. The new advisor and a veteran staff used the power of the

to cover events of interest. For example, there was expanded coverage of Sports, including the second semester—an all-girls' Sports page.

The staff is to be commended for publishing their papers on schedule despite the fact their ancient typesetting machine broke down frequently and finally was retired.

INVOLVEMENT

This 1977-78 Homecoming week was kicked off with enthusiasm and anticipation. The student activities leading up to homecoming night were exciting and called for much student

Participation

At the end of a tiring, demanding week Linda Warren was voted homecoming queen. She was crowned during the half time show at the Atascadero vs. Saint Joe football game. The Greyhounds ended the week with a victory over Saint Joe 33-0.

Linda Warren announced Homecoming Queen for 1977-78.

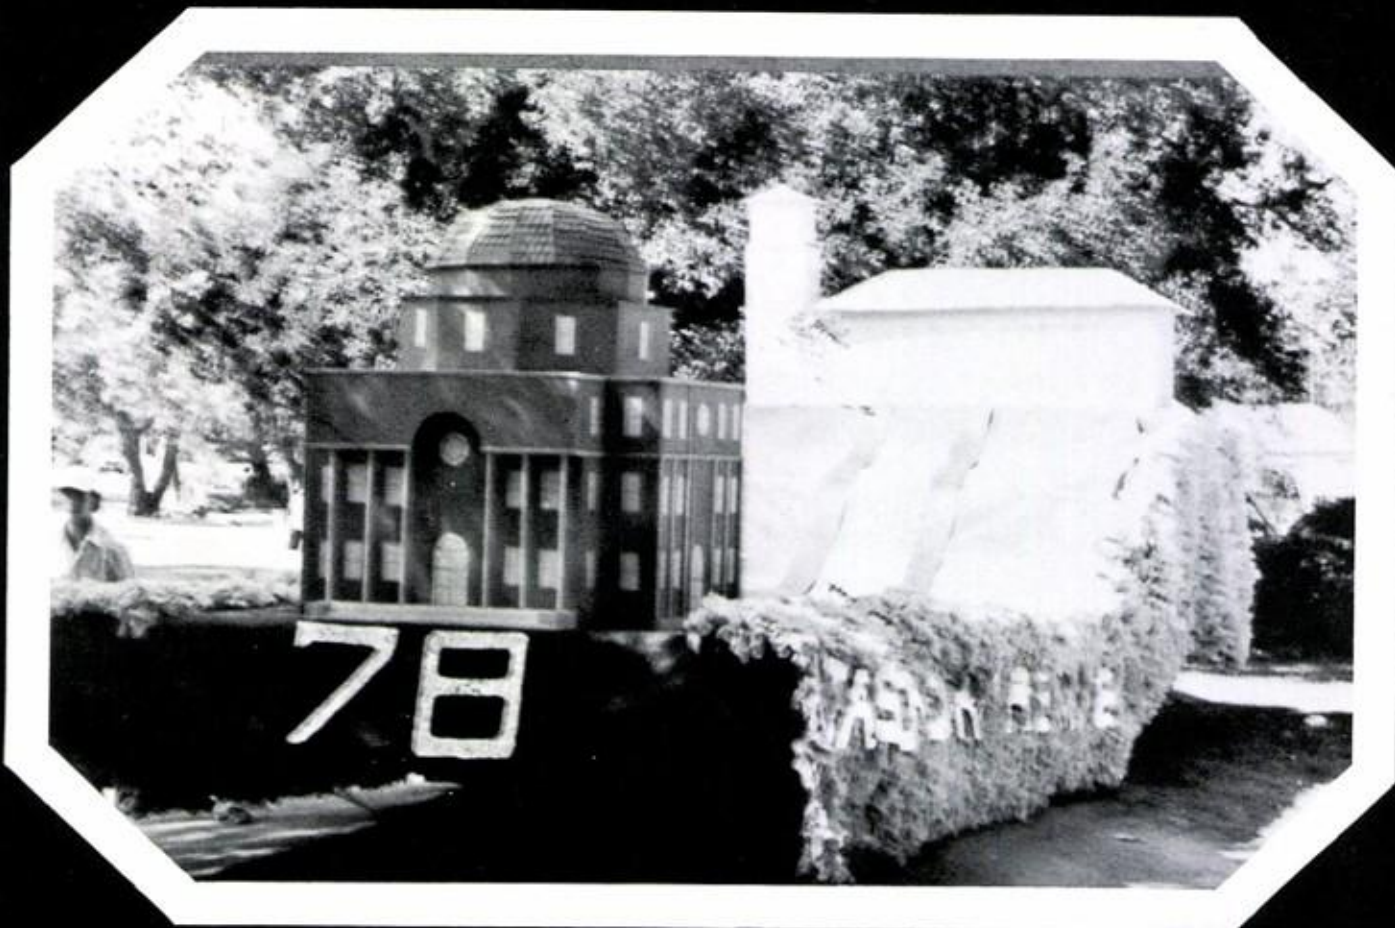

The activities for Homecoming Week 1977-78 were ones that just proved what we all know, that the Greyhounds are big in spirit and participation. This year's Homecoming was one of and enthusiasm. Each class displayed a tremendous amount of spirit. The awards were shared by every class, with the Seniors taking first for the floats and spirit week. When we look back on the activities and spirit displayed that week, they will be memories of good times to always stay in our hearts.

What legs those Juniors have!

First place float - class of '78.

The undefeated class of '78 in action

Our Homecoming Week activities were ones of excitement and enthusiasm. Hundreds of students turned out, wearing hats and jeans one day, and fifties outfits the next. Seeing crazy hats, beat-up jeans and funny fifties attires attracted attention and showed the fantastic of the students. Each class showed avid interest during Homecoming Week and each collected a large amount of points. The Senior class earned the most points by their active participation.

Innovations

You're sure that you just put air in these tires?

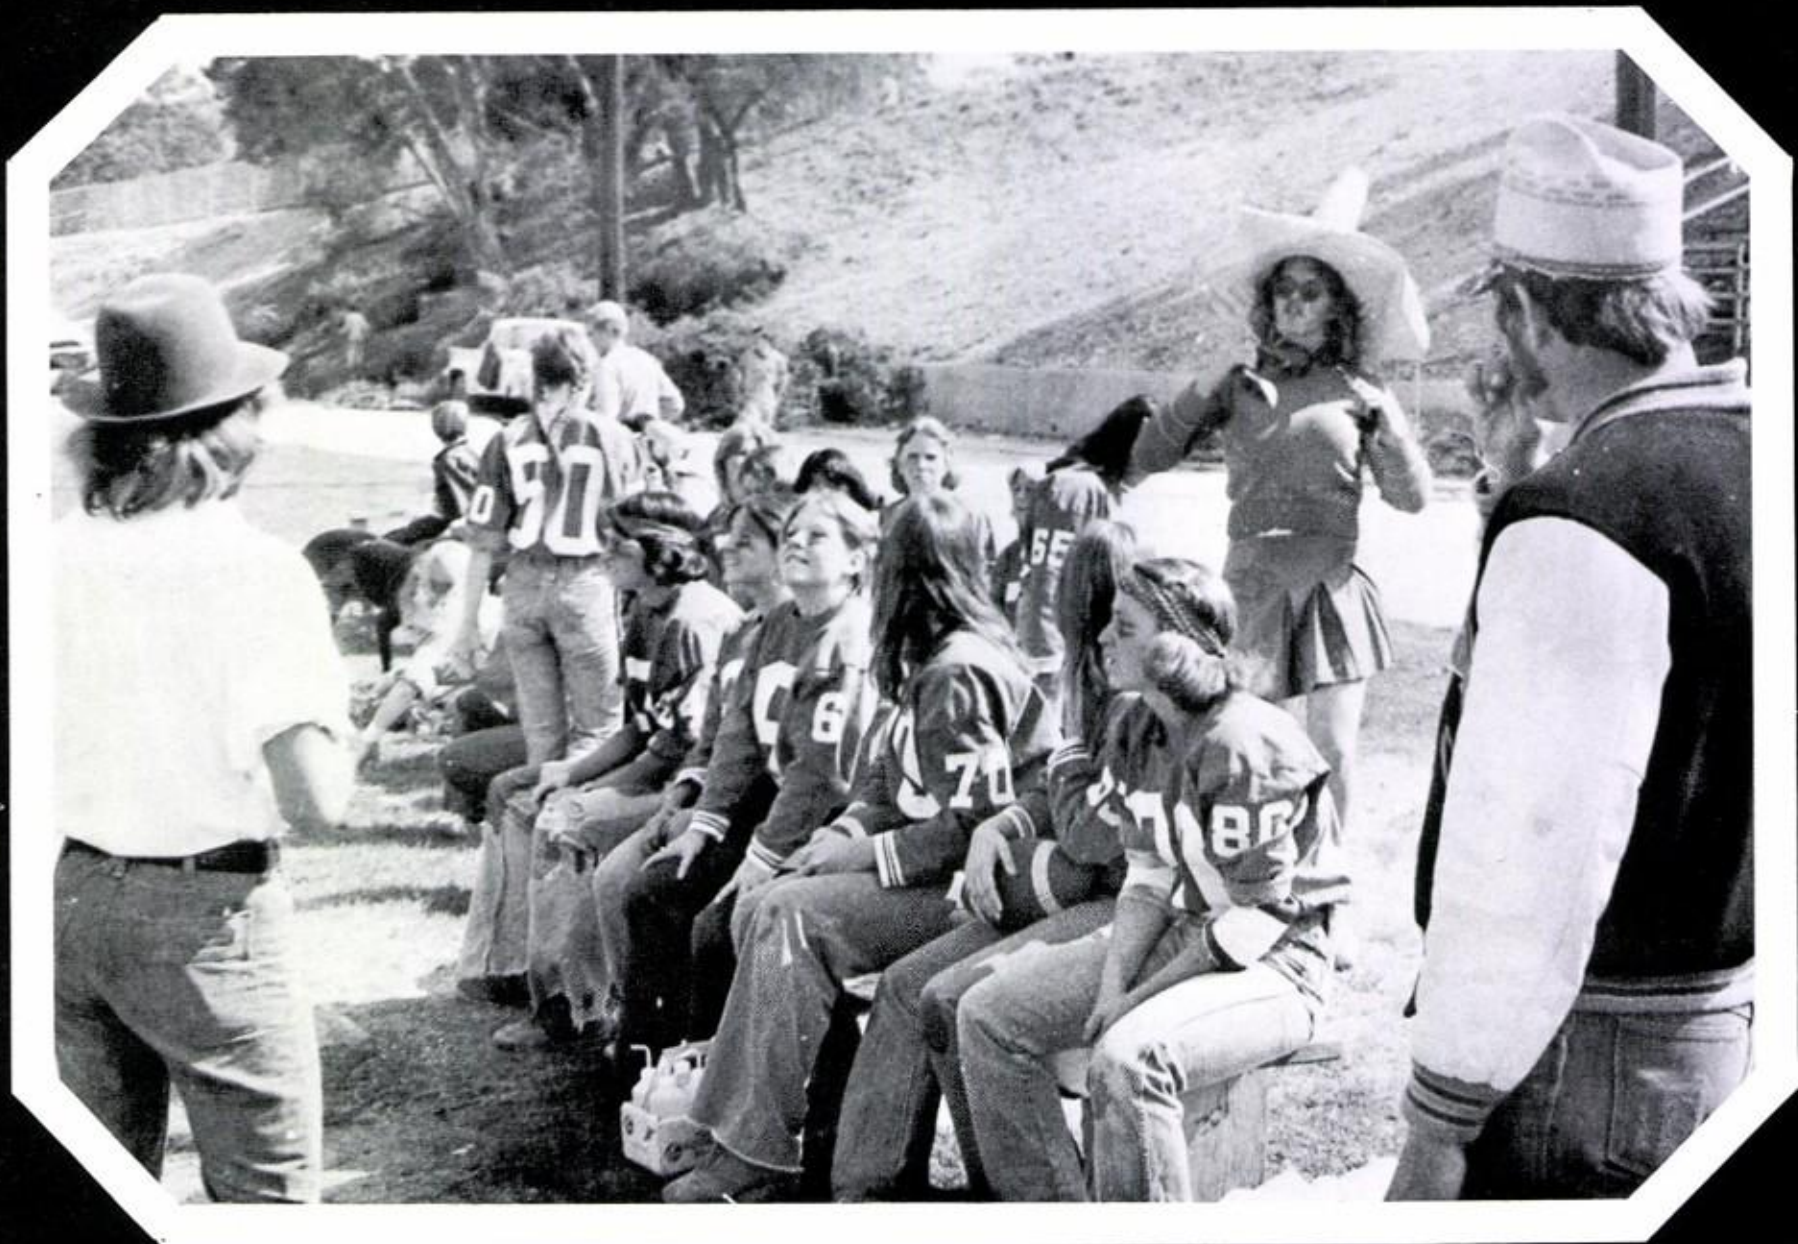

Now how the heck are you going to get that over your head?

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" was a big success for the Drama Club. With an unbelievable turnout; particularly the last night, it was well worth all that hard work. With such great support from the student body and the community, it was a bigger success than expected. We really shouldn't have been too surprised because the of the Drama Club is overwhelming. Each member of the cast worked hard to make the most successful play yet. The reputation of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" was one to really be proud of.

Excitement is in the air as Linda Warren is crowned Homecoming Queen.

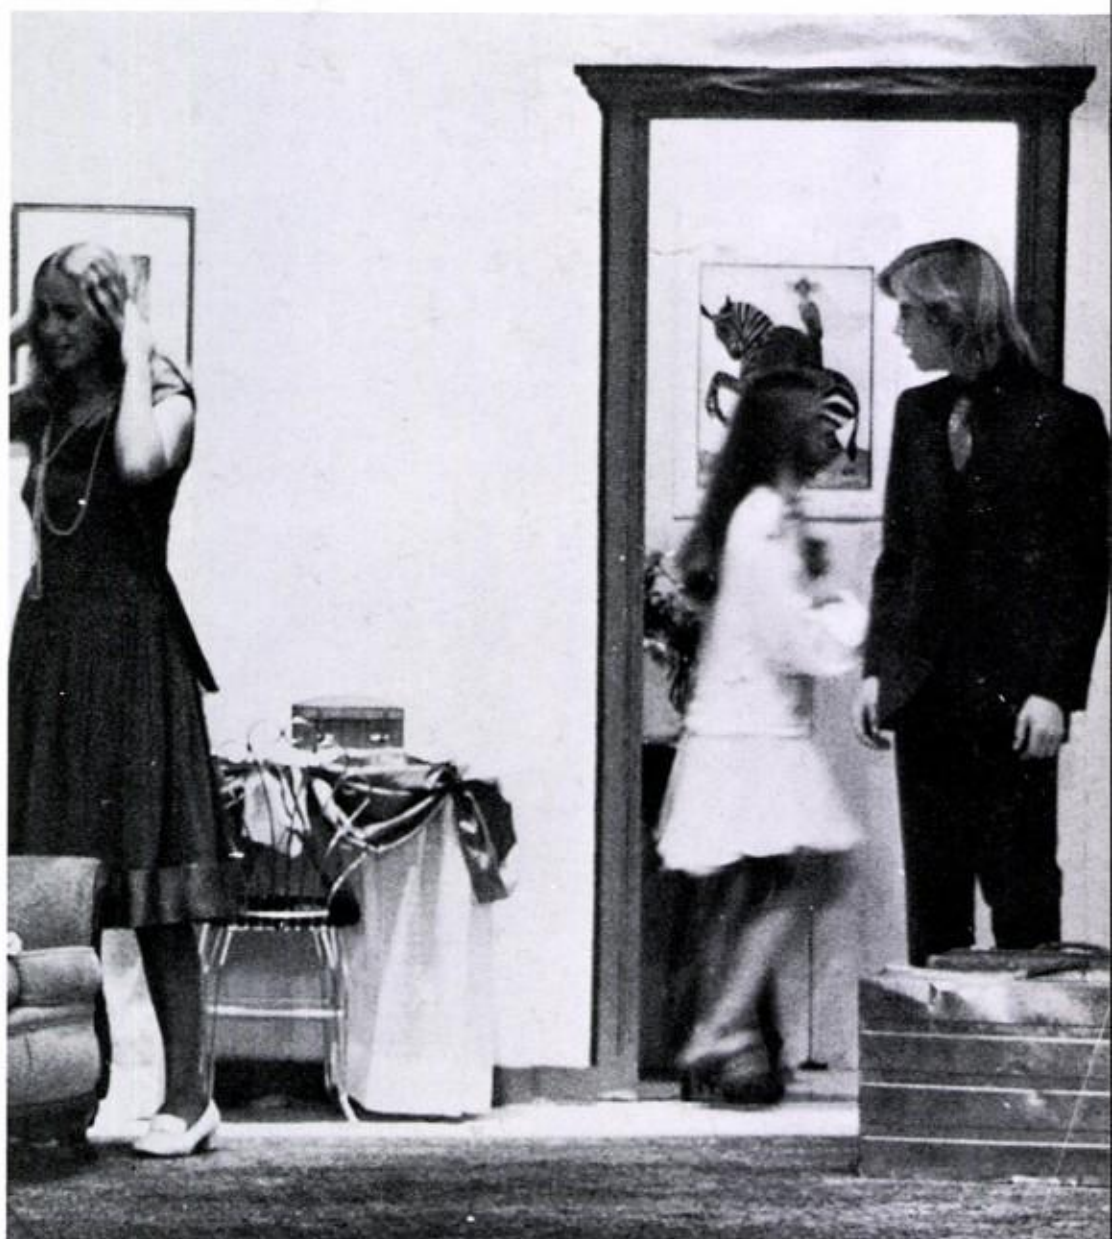

Seniors dominated the activities for the 1977 Homecoming with their overpowering spirit and involvement. They started out by winning first place in the float competition. The class of '78' girls also won for the second year in a row, the Powderpuff football game. They enjoyed winning the class competition, orange crush chug-a-lug, and Jeans and hat day.

Enthusiasm

from the Juniors brought in a first place for the fifties day and the Ice sliding contest. Sophomores are proud to announce that they won the poster contest. And last but certainly not least the Freshman pulled through with a third place for their float. Each class should be noted for their trying spirit and overall cheerfulness even if they didn't do as well as expected. This years homecoming will be long remembered with everyone's participation for the best Homecoming yet.

Anything else while I'm here?

I've got a headache.

Let's get this settled once and for all.

The swim show was fun, but also alot of hard work, as these girls display.

"Different Strokes for Different Folks" marked the theme for this years swim show. The girls showed much talent in their routines as they swam to the beats of classical and modern songs. Mrs. Hinkle helped the girls perfect the show during many hours of hard-work. The show provided for parents and students alike. Not only dicipline was evident in the show, but alot of fun was shown in the two nights of performance. After the last night, a sigh of relief was given, by each girl as she felt sad about the long wait for next years show.

Spirit Week activities were dampened this year due to the long awaited rain-fall. But the spirits were not washed away as one can tell by the

on the face of Basketball Sweetheart Cheri Beaver. Students maintained their enthusiasm even though many of the activities had to be cancelled due to the weather.

There was still an assembly, and the Spirit breakfast which was a success for all who participated.

The 1977 Winter Formal was a big success for many who participated. Being with your date and dancing the night away made the dance an enjoyable evening. During each song, tuxedos and long dresses decorated the floor, moving in rhythm to the beat of Genoa. Although some problems occurred, enjoyed themselves and through the work of the rally squad, everything worked out fine. With memories of an exciting night, many seniors will have fond memories to take with them when they leave.

Couples

And to think it's only their first date!

to the delight of a packed gymnasium. They stole (senior) Karen Marsh's purse and dumped everything out on the gym floor, embarrassing her with a "Vodka Bottle." The Clowns teased Bill Wesnousky about his name, and Jerry Tanimoto about his size.

Referees Bill Huey and Scotty Simons had to put up with chasing balls that were kicked out the doors, their pants being pulled down, and jokes that kept everyone in stitches throughout the night. All the children who attended especially enjoyed the clowning around.

The 1978 Dance Show showed more talent than ever before. With the combined dedication of director Carol Hinkle, and the participating students, the dancers managed to pull off three big night performances. They continued to entertain other audiences, as they traveled to other high schools and junior high schools. The of the dance show varied from ballet to contemporary jazz. From the worshiping of "King Zero" in one dance, to a tear jerking dance of love, the performance was one of variety and high success.

The Greyhounds came out running. They started the season at the beginning of the school year by running three to four miles a day. Running and gunning they slashed through the Taft Invitational bringing home a first place trophy. Coming around again, the Hounds beat a previously undefeated Arroyo Grande team, this capturing an early season 7-0 record. This years team featured a full-court pressing zone defense, which converted to a man to man when the offensive team crossed the center line. The team lost some super talent for the beginning of the season when brothers Keith and Steve Schmidt were injured. The most improved players this year were Roger Bland and Bill Rainwater. Greyhounds work the ball.

Coach of the Freshman Basketball team was George "Skip" French. He chose eleven team players and one manager from the many freshmen boys that tried out. The members were chosen not necessarily because they were the "best" but a combination of how they worked with others. This quality showed more and more toward the end of the season. The team's practice began with a couple weeks of cross country running, they ran one and a half to two miles each day. Several of the members continued running through out the season. There were Frosh games usually twice a week, and on the other days the team practiced their basketball skills in the gym. The Freshman Basketball team, known to Skip French as the

The track team was coached by Bill Young, and the assistant coaches were Art Wilmore and Gary Kuhn. Freshmen and Sophomores were on this team, unless they were extremely good, then they went to the Varsity. The team practiced every day for about two hours. Each member, during a track meet, could enter a maximum of four events. Our school's track team showed good performances and were strong in the areas of sprinting, distance and high jump. Assistant Coach Gary Kuhn said that one special thing about the sport was that they tried to put the fun back into it. They tried to make it, as he put it, a where everyone was pulling together. He also wanted everyone to know that this sport took much more work than most people realized because it was purely physical.

John Ruggles muscles his way out of this one!

It's four o'clock in the afternoon. The match is at seven o'clock tonight. You still have five pounds to loose before you can weigh in. It takes every man tonight to win the match, because it's a tough team. Besides your first in league so far and your dream is going to

C.I.F.

Oh no, you've wasted a half an hour on day dreaming. You run and run, don't swallow, keep spitting, sweat every ounce of fluid out of your body.

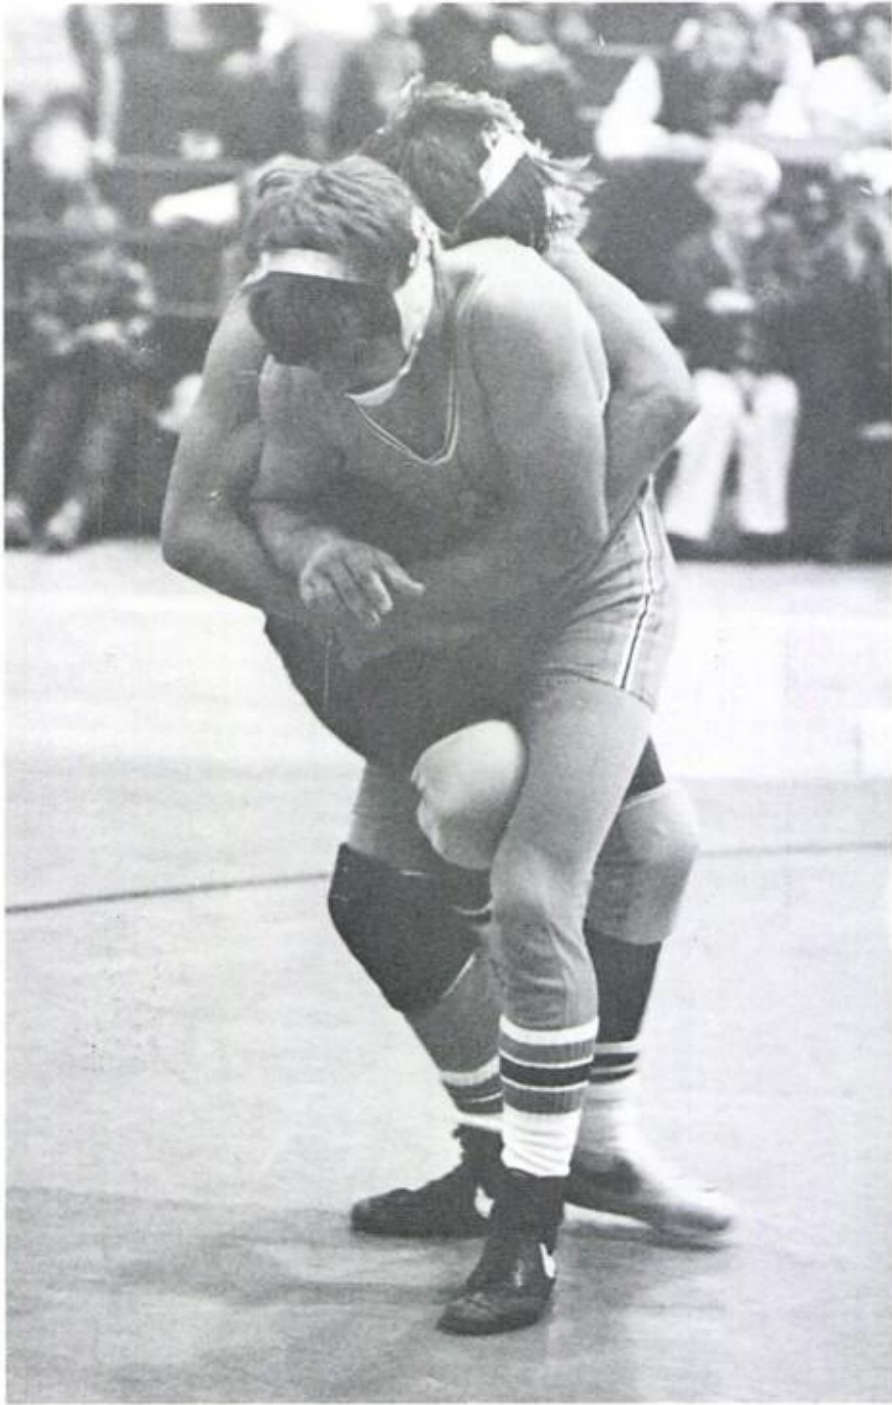

It's seven o'clock and you've made weigh ins. It's your turn to go out and perform. Your struggling hard, giving every last burst of energy you can possibly find. The sweat is rolling in your eyes. You've got him on his back. His shoulders are flat, one, two, three, pin!

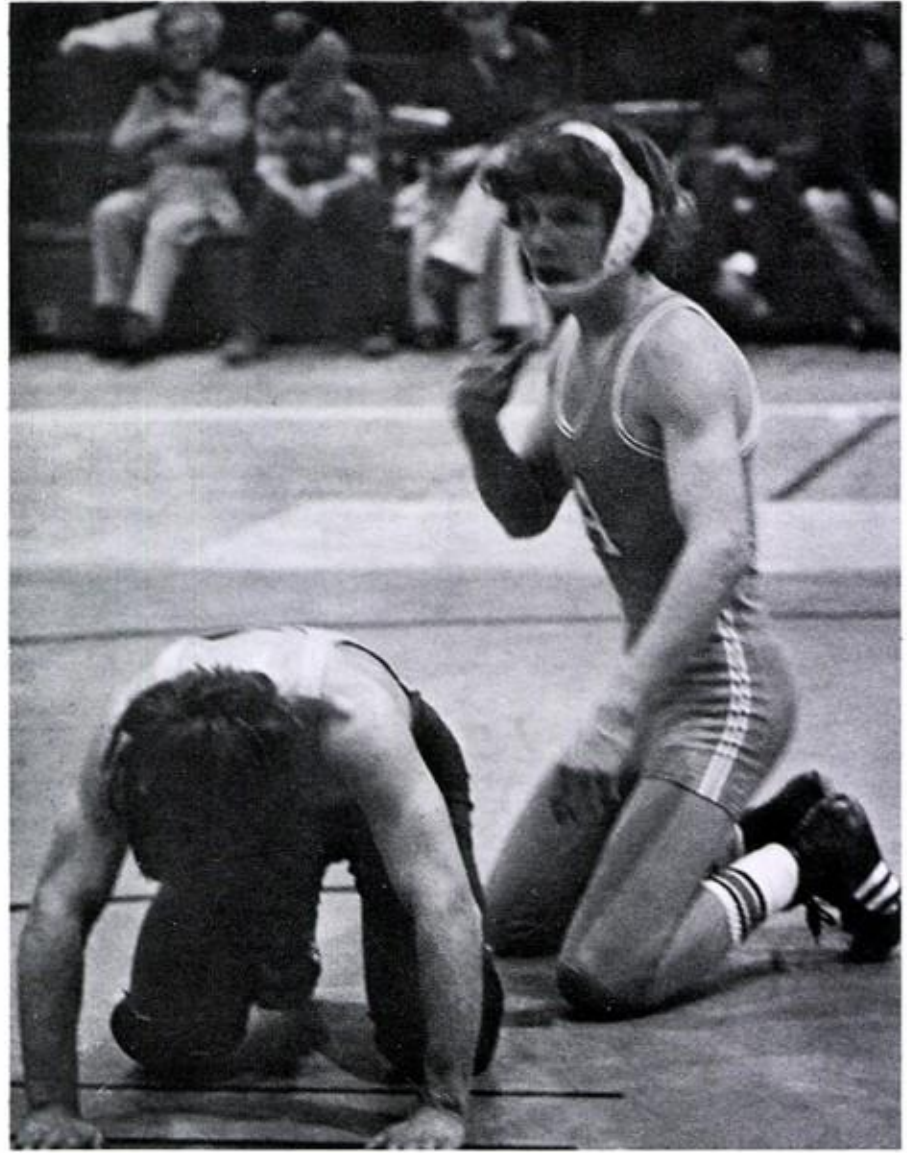

Craig Prichard says, "I warned you once you little weasle!"

With John Ruggles the only returning League Champ and Paul Barrios, Mike Gonzales, Norman Nick, and Erik Randall as the only Varsity returning Lettermen, we were a team of little experience but a lot of desire. Loaded with a lot of 1st. year wrestlers, we were able to go undefeated in league 6-0 and win the Los Padres League which is under construction. They met tough competition this year and will come back next year with their home course. Mr. Levi Monica, coach, said "it will help them in being more competitive on a better course."

Championship

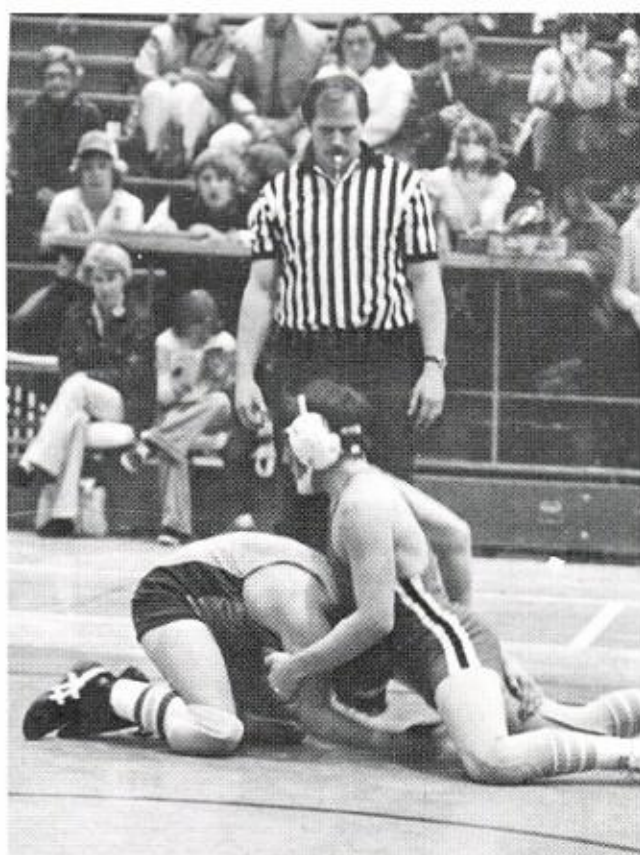

Held at Morro Bay-both Varsity and J.V. led by individual varsity champions Chuck Ruggles, Freshman-95 lbs., Mike Gonzales, Sophomore-112 lbs., John Ruggles, Senior-165 lbs., Craig Pritchard, Senior-175 lbs., Tim Brown, Senior-hwt, and J.V. Champions Bob Frenes, Freshman, 103 lbs., Keno Garza, Junior-120, Brad Scott Sophomore-165 lbs., and Dan Spickert-Junior-175 lbs. Atascadero High wrestling team proved again to be number 1 in 1978.

Shawn Norman goes for a good break down.

Rodger Bland says, "Hey Coach you think this one will go in?"

Shawn Norman putts for a par.

Ken McDougall, senior and outstanding swimmer, participates in many swimming events.

Coach Spomer has led swim team for three years, all of which were undefeated.

squad. The Waterhounds' greatest strength was derived from their excellent team depth. Coach Bill Spomer's Swim Team dominated the Los Padres League and were also an impressive team outside of the league.

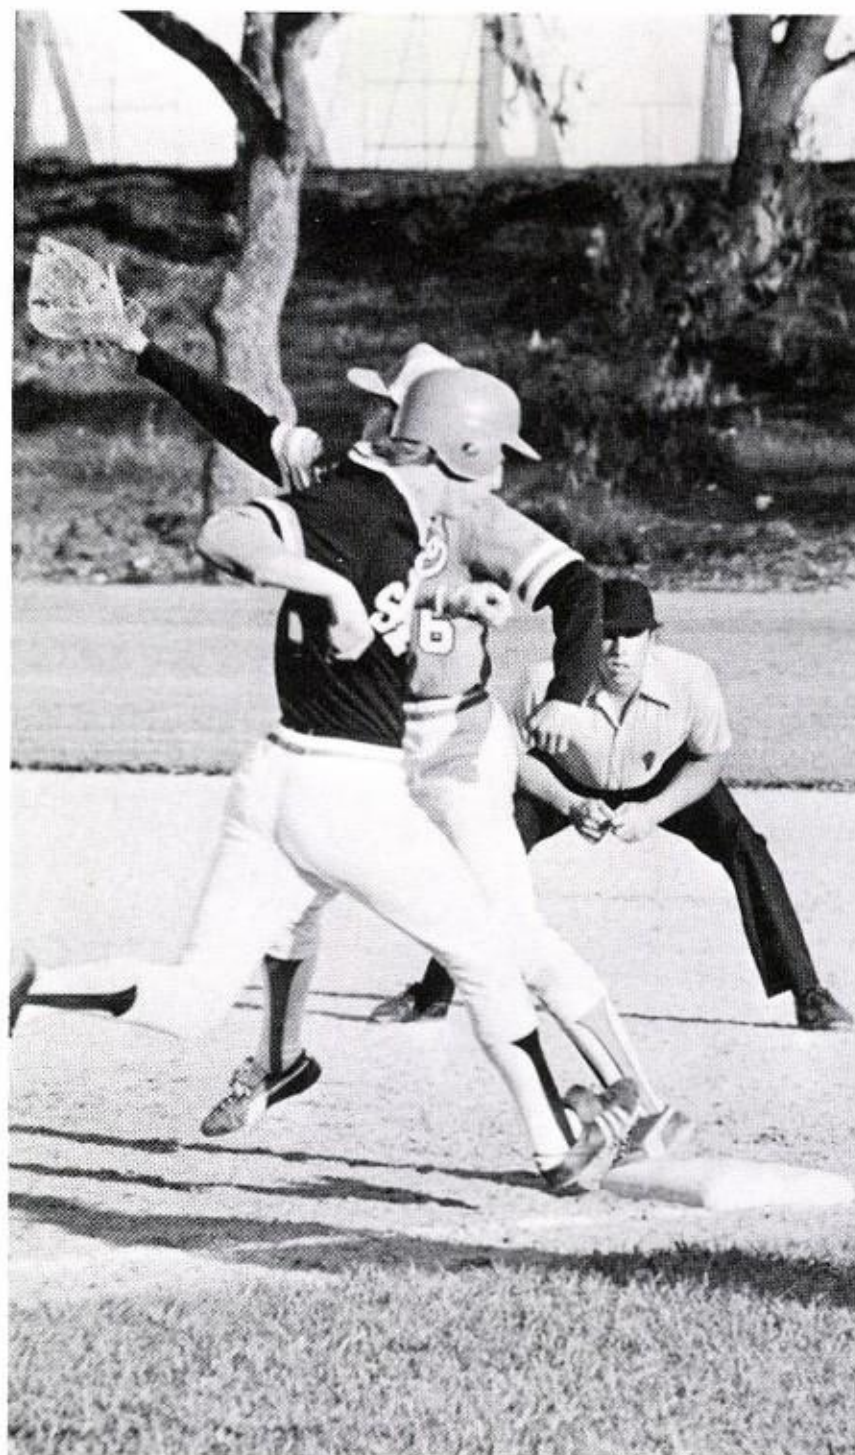

Marty Richardson shows his skills in pitching.

The 77-78 Varsity Baseball has many returning players. Three confident returners are, Senior pitchers, Clint Rogers and Bill Rainwater, and Junior catcher, Chris Molina, additions to these are Dave Carroll, Paul Horton and Marty Richardson. Although they lost many players last year, they hope to fill them by many of the new comers. "This years team like last years Champions, boosts a fine blend of youth and experience," explained Coach Wesnousky. In order to have a good team you also must have a effective defence with a strong middle, shortstop and second baseman, Coach Wesnously stated it was very promising.

From a censored Sophomore assembly, to a #1 Senior float, the class of '78' has finally made it.

Living through the freshmen initiation and slipping into those "carefree" Sophomore days, we welcomed our authority as Juniors and feared our responsibilities as Seniors.

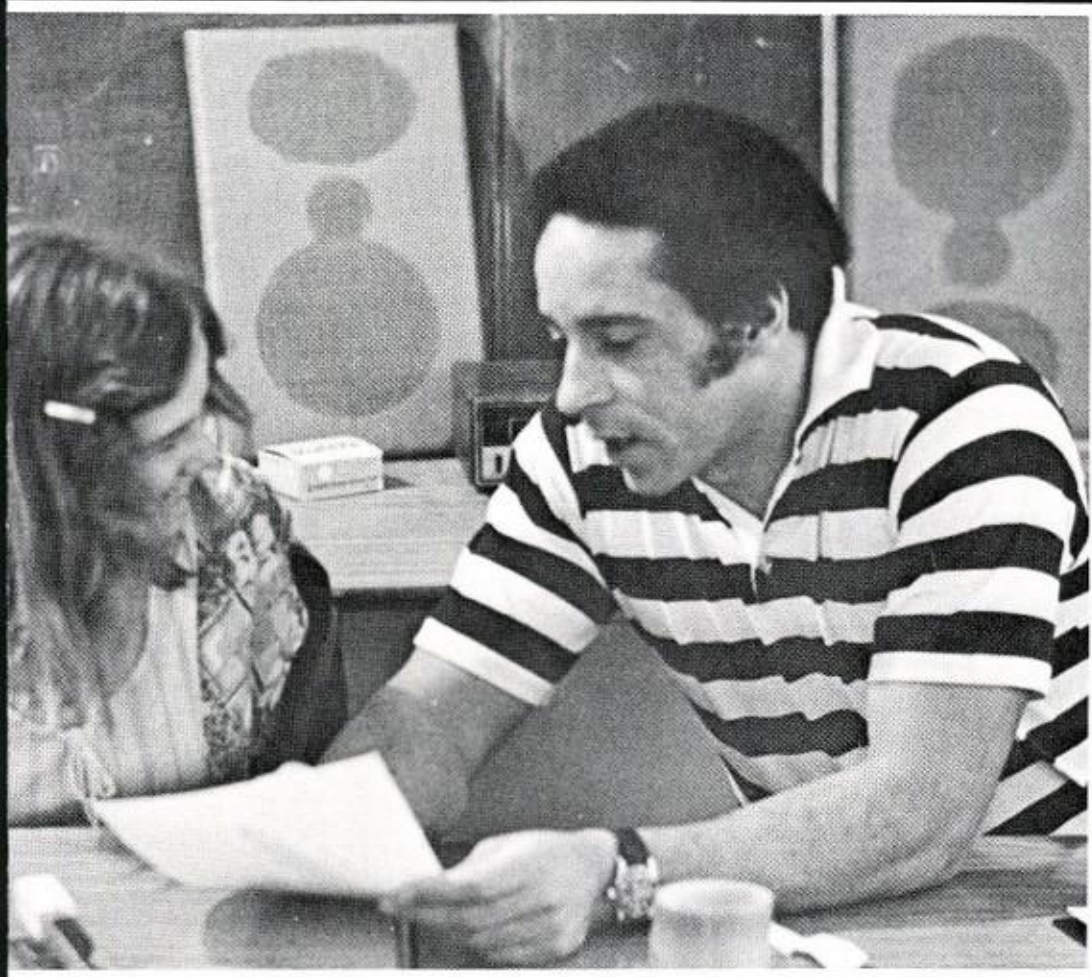

Patricia Anderson

Sometimes one sees in the school simply the instrument for transferring a certain maximum quantity of knowledge to the growing generation.

But that is not right.

Knowledge is dead; the school, however, serves the living. It should develop in the fare of the commonwealth.

And as in every story, there is also an ending to this story. Now we begin a new book. Only this time we know what we are possibly capable and incapable of. We have failed but have also found success within ourselves

Now we must once again become individuals. We must move on to a new and different type of life. But don't forget to look back at these past four years. For they are a piece of you and you of them.

Today ... the girls wore Ditto's pants and the boys wore blue jeans and hats.

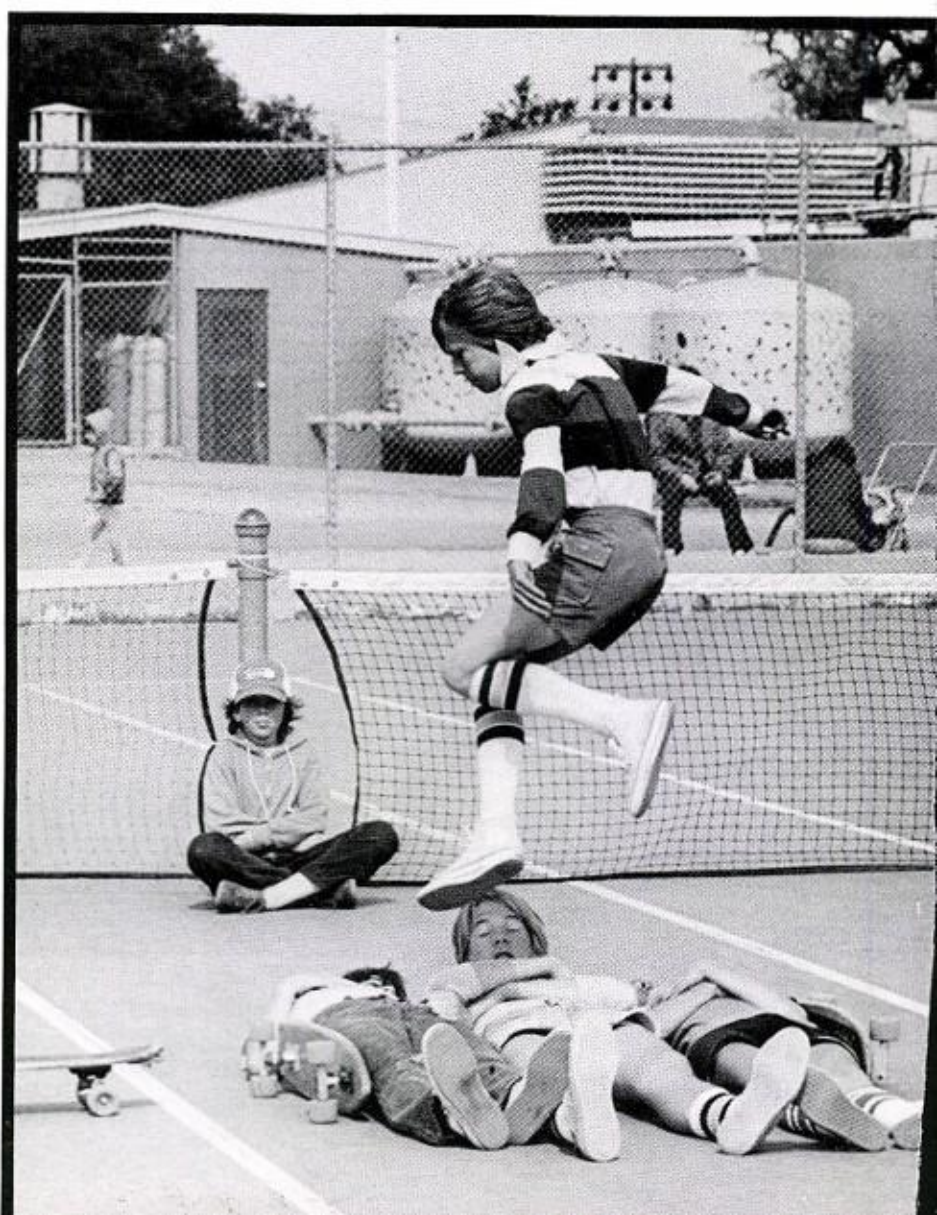

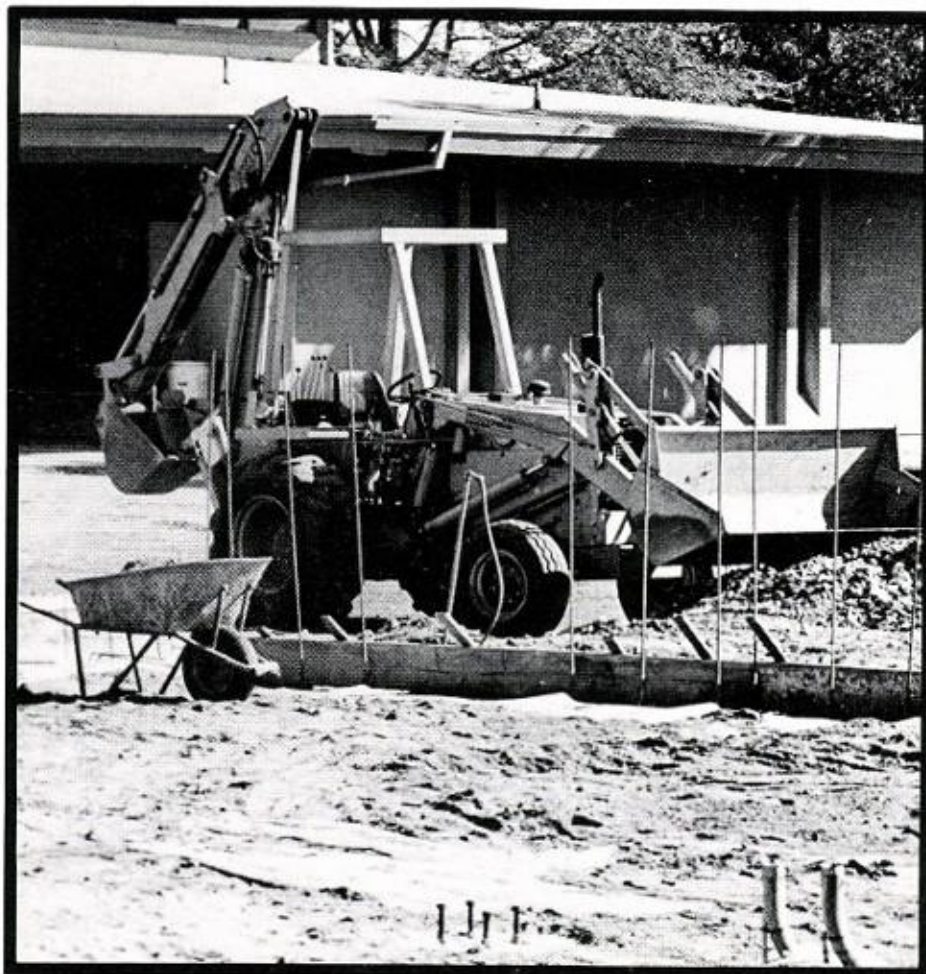

We danced to the songs "Stay'n Alive" by the Bee Gee's and "Dance, Dance, Dance" by Shiek. Disco was in and great radio stations, such as, KSLY, KAFY and KZOZ supplied us with all that ecstatic music.

The attractions of "Happy Days" on Tuesdays, and "Charlie's Angels" on Wednesdays, Kept us occupied on those lonely school nights.

On a big night out, if no one was cruising town and we could go to the movies and see "The Good-Bye Girl" or "Saturday Night Fever."

Today was Atascadero Creek nearly flooding over; it was rain, rain, rain, and still more rain; then a hot spring day. Today was s sunrise and a sunset.

And when all the people were gone, and all the lights were out, Today was gone forever.

A black and white photograph showing a dirt road or path that curves through a wooded area. On the right side of the road, there is a wooden fence made of vertical posts and horizontal rails. The road surface is uneven, with patches of dirt and some debris. In the background, there are dense trees and foliage. The overall mood is somber and contemplative.

It's a long, long road to which there is no return.

Ed, your one of the coolest sears I know. and I hope you find the cold blooded person
who touched our locker.
Please do more cold blooded stuff to Monica.
